AIDING CHILDREN

Work of the Children's Home and Aid Society

Prof. E. A. Whitman, D. Dr. L. D. the newly appointed district superintendent of this society, has arrived on the field, and entered vigorously upon the work. Jacksonville will be the head of the district, which consists of sixteen counties.

Without question, there is no more important work being done than that which this society is engaged in doing. They seek out, wherever they can be found, the homeless, childhood waifs; take care of them and find homes for them; among them who can train them for usefulness, give them an answer to their wall that comes from the lips of helpless children, some of them orphans, others without such parental guardianship as can properly prepare them for life's duties.

Thousands of these children are as bright and promising as those in our proudest homes and only want a chance to become an honor to those who become their foster parents, as well as to society. Yet, neglected, a large majority of these will drift to the bad and go to swell the ranks of the criminal classes. Thousands of children have been thus rescued by this society, and are growing on their hands faster than the society can attend to it. The professor arrived on Wednesday last and found five just such needy children from our own city awaiting his arrival. Three of them were sent on Friday to the society's home at Shelbyville to await the homes which the society will surely and soon find them, while the others are awaiting further investigation.

From the sixteen counties the society has taken and cared for over 400 children, an average of upward of twenty-seven per month. They have now in homes in the district about 200, each one of whom is watched over by the society as faithfully as though they were its own. Least occasionally some one might get out of the unfortunate little ones who would neglect to give it the training which children have a divine right to. Of these 200 children, twenty-five are in homes in Morgan county, fourteen of them being in Jacksonville or vicinity. In most cases the people become so attached to the children that nothing would prevail on them to send them back to the society.

This society is purely a benevolent organization, receiving no state aid. From the sixteen counties the society will be held at Lincoln Thursday of this week.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer will be read and the election of officers will be held. In the afternoon Drs. Clegg, C. Montgomery, and Harry S. Oster will read papers and a general discussion will be had.

A number of Jacksonville physicians will attend the meeting.

MILLS WILL RESUME.

Minneapolis, April 20—Reopened on the Minneapolis flour mills, undertaken as a protest against discriminatory freight rates on flour, as compared with wheat, has come to an end. While no formal concessions have been made by the railroads, assurances have been received which justify the millers in resuming. It costs so little and it would be a great education for you.
